There are members of our Congregation who are very sensitive to scents. MRT strives to provide a “Scent Free” environment in our building.

Recently it has come to our attention that we need to remind everyone of our goal of being a “Scent Free” building. The MRT community asks that you avoid wearing scents of any kind when coming to our facility and we ask you to tell your guests who visit with us. Thank you for being our partner in creating a “Scent-Free” environment.

From Rabbi Bob Ourach

The Hebrew month of Elul begins on August 7th. This month in the Jewish calendar is often

Each year at the High Holy Days, our minds and hearts are filled with thoughts and feelings. Many of them have not been expressed. Our lips have been sealed, and we are not truly ready to confront a new year.

achieved when we are truly bound together as a community.

With hearts that open for each other, and lips which promote the relationships we so long to achieve and enrich, may God empower us to be all that we can be. May our faith be strengthened, knowing that we are not alone.

Our prayers come from the very depths of our being. May our hearts be lifted and the words of our mouths be heard. May our prayers bring us into a new year refreshed, renewed and strengthened.

Rabbi Robert E. Ourach

used for introspection and thoughtful consideration of one's words thoughts and actions during the past year. This time of preparation for the High Holidays can be cleansing and refreshing.

Let these words of Maimonides guide us into the High Holy Days: "Smooth speech and deception are forbidden us. Our words must not differ from our thoughts; the inner and outer person must be the same; what is in the heart should be on the lips." This instruction is so basic. Yet, to achieve this goal is an incredibly difficult task.

Let us make an extra effort this year to share our feelings with those whom we love and who touch our lives so profoundly. Let anger not remain in our hearts, as we seek to cleanse our souls and purify our lives. May our lips not simply mouth the words of our prayers. May we confront the liturgy with the feeling and knowledge that the words we speak and pray can, and will, enable us to change and grow.

Let our fear and anger be replaced by trust and love. May the support of friends and family enable us to recognize the richness that is

Selichot Service and Program: Saturday night, August 31st

8pm Service with Choir (includes changing the Torah Mantles)

9pm Program with Rabbi Ourach:

A Laugh, A Tear, A Mitzvah

The creation of the Jewish American from the shtetls of Eastern Europe to a level of prosperity Bubbe and Zaide never imagined possible is a story that is continuously unfolding. From the taste of good deli and chicken soup to the flavor of the Yiddish language, the video chronicles the assimilation that began on New York's Lower East Side as immigrant families tried to find for themselves what being Jewish means, forever changing society and one another in the process. A Laugh, A Tear, A Mitzvah, celebrates the dynamic evolution of the legacy of Jewish identity in the United States and explores how the support of family and the observance of age-old rituals and traditions made up for the cultural gains and losses necessary for living in a multi-faceted society.

Included in the program are actors Fyvush Finkel and Theodore Bikel, former Congresswoman Bella Abzug, comedian Jackie Mason, writer Calvin Trillin and Rabbi Marc Gellman.

From Cantor Gabrielle Clissold

Cantor Clissold is at Camp Harlam with the large group of campers from MRT. She has sent some pictures for us to enjoy!

From the President, Jay Wiesenfeld Email: wiesenfeld@ieee.org

Rosh Hashana begins in the first week of September. This seems very early, but as Cantor Clissold has reminded me, the High Holy Days always arrive right on time. This is a special time for renewal and new beginnings, although renewal is an ever-present process, as illustrated by the work of the Atid Task Force.

As I have written last month and you have seen in recent Bulletin articles, the Atid Task Force has been working creatively and diligently to integrate comments from and discussions with our members, to create a new sense of vision and renewal for MRT. Atid presented the results of their work to the Board of MRT at a special Board meeting on July 23. There was, of course, great interest. Beside the Board and members of the Atid Task Force, about 40 congregants also attended the meeting. In the oral presentation from multiple members of Atid, details of the main sections and recommendations from the report were highlighted. Paper copies of the report were made available to all attendees. If you were not present, you can request a copy of the report, either in paper or electronic form, from the MRT office. Please review the report. It contains many excellent recommendations for our congregation.

The report has three main components and an Appendix:

1. Vision, Mission and Values statements
2. Recommendations concerning Governance at MRT
3. Recommendations concerning the operating culture of MRT
4. An Appendix with recommendations for standing committees.

It is the result of research, many discussion, sub-group discussion, listening groups with more than 120 congregants, and more discussions and refinements. I commend Atid for the depth of their work and dedication to MRT to undertake the report. I thank Joel Morgovsky, the leader of Atid, and Dr. Michael Freidman, our external congregational consultant, for driving, guiding, and motivating the work.

The plan of the Board is to first consider the Vision, Mission, and Values (VMV) statements section of the report, with the goal of approving that section at its August 20 meeting. This is an aggressive schedule, which is required by the arrival of the High Holy Days early in September (although they do always come on time) and the need to use the VMV in our application for rabbinic placement, which will be due just after the High Holy Days. Delaying this consideration to October or later would risk losing the focus of our congregation on the excellent recommendations of Atid and would further delay consideration of the other recommendations.

To be prepared to approve the VMV statements at the August 20 Board meeting, it is important to get feedback from the congregation on these statements. Please look at the excellent work of Atid and provide us your thoughts. We request your comments on the VMV statements by Sunday, August 11. Please respond by email to atidfeedback@monmouthreformtemple.org or by letter to "Atid Feedback" at the MRT office by that date. That deadline will enable a small committee, composed of three Atid members and three Board members, to gather the comments and prepare them for Board consideration.

During the course of the year, the Board's work will address the other recommendations in the Atid report. We will be communicating with you as we go forward with the rest of the report.

One clear message from the report, which emerged from the committee, the congregants, and in the listening groups, was the value that we all place on community. May we all strengthen our attachments, via many possible paths, to the MRT community as we move forward with strength to the new year.

Summary of July 16th Board of Trustees meeting: from Jim Halpern, MRT Recording Sec'y

The Board would like to acknowledge positive happenings within our congregation.

We are glad to have Rabbi Ourach on our staff. There was a welcome social for the Rabbi.

We also want to welcome Linda Ourach to our community. A study group will start in October entitled "Intro to Judaism" and will be held on Thursday nights. Our 92nd Street Y has decided on programming for this fall. We have three shows planned. This is our first Board meeting of the new Board. Rabbi Ourach wanted to thank Cantor Clissold for helping him become acquainted with the Temple. Cantor Clissold is beginning her 13th year here at MRT.

The Board approved members to the Executive Committee at MRT.

The Board has scheduled a special meeting on July 23rd allow the Atid Committee to present its report. The Congregation is invited to attend this important meeting. The report has three main components and an Appendix:

1. Vision, Mission and Values statements
2. Recommendations concerning Governance at MRT
3. Recommendations concerning the operating culture of MRT
4. An Appendix with recommendations for standing committees.

The presentation will be the first look at the work of the committee by the congregation and Board members. The Board plans on reviewing the Vision, Mission and Values Statements contained in the report for approval at our August Board Meeting so that these statements can be included in our advertisement for a permanent Rabbi.

The Pulpits Search Committee to find a Permanent Rabbi is meeting for the first time on July 18, 2013 and now has 20 congregants who have expressed interest in helping.

The Board has approved a Separation Agreement with the Tinton Falls Cooperative Nursery School.

The MFA Task Force has met and is beginning to gather ideas for reorganizing the Arts Festival in coming years. They are still looking for leadership for the MFA Committee.

The Membership Committee reported we have 324 member families this month at MRT.

The Board welcomes Rabbi Ourach and encourages everyone to come meet him.

Lobby Tzedakah Box August 2013: Interfaith Neighbors

On June 12, 2013, Interfaith Neighbors celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary. It is difficult to believe that twenty-five years have passed since Monmouth Reform Temple met with other congregations in Monmouth County to learn about homelessness in our community and do something about it. Lila and Max z"l Singer represented MRT at that first meeting.

Unfortunately, homelessness still exists in our midst. Here are some of the reasons why:

- Unskilled workers simply don't earn enough to pay the high cost of rent.
- Families that just scrape by are put in a crisis mode when a car needs repair.
- Families that depend on two incomes lose one source of income.
- A child is stricken with cancer (this happens all too often) and one parent is required to leave his or her job to be a caretaker.
- A disaster like Sandy turns everyone's life upside down.

Interfaith Neighbors has become a safety-net in these situations by providing rental assistance for the working poor. Struggling families have come to rely on Interfaith Neighbors when in desperate need of assistance – and Interfaith Neighbors has come to rely on congregational support, both financial and through prayer, for sustenance in helping others.

Contributions to our tzedakah box for the month of August will support the rental assistance program of Interfaith Neighbors. Rabbi Priesand, who serves as president of Interfaith Neighbors, is the matching donor.

Gan Mazon (Garden of Plenty), David Levinsky, Chair

With the rain and intense heat this season, gardening has been stressful to both the plants and volunteers. The good news is that I expect our cucumber, tomato, pepper and bean harvests to be abundant. Although, the garden has had early success with squash plantings, I am concerned by insect damage to the plants. Christine Gold snapped the picture to the left as I was trying to perform first aid on several yellow squash plants. It is amazing as to how many gardening tips I have found by browsing through YouTube on the Internet. It remains to be seen if any of the ideas actually work out.

At the moment, only three volunteers are working in our 2,000 sq. ft. garden. Obviously, a few more temple members interested in providing healthy, organic produce to the working poor are needed to maintain this valuable social action project. Although helpful, gardening knowledge or experience is definitely not a prerequisite for joining us on Thursday mornings; other hours can be arranged. As you can see from the green and yellow squash to the right, vegetable gardening can be very rewarding. A hat, gloves, sun screen, (sometimes) insect repellent and pruning shears are all that is needed.

See you in MRT's vegetable garden,

David

PS As of July 23rd we have harvested 95 pounds of cucumbers!

From Vera Galleid, Religious School Principal

Hope you are enjoying the summer. I spent three weeks in Cape Town , South Africa, seeing family and friends and taking care of my mother who has had some health issues. I am now back at MRT working on our plans for the year ahead. Our year will be filled with PACT programs, Holiday celebrations, services, trips, projects and learning.

I am happy to welcome Rabbi Ourach . I look forward to working with him and to his involvement in our school . Baruch Haba.

Please help MRT to grow by telling your friends about our Temple and our Religious School. We provide a caring , warm and meaningful Jewish environment for your children and provide them with an excellent academic and social experience.

Here you can make new friends from many different towns and become part of a community.

There are many ways you can participate and be involved in our school. Please consider volunteering to be a class parent or a member of the Religious Education Committee. Let's work together to provide the best possible Jewish education for our children.

Please register for Religious School so we can plan and order books . School will begin on Sunday September 8th , 2013 with an opening assembly for parents and students at 9:30am in the Sanctuary. Come and meet your child's teachers and hear all about our plans for the year.

Please contact me if you would like to meet with me, or with our special needs teacher Cari Katz , before school begins.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT...

The State of Israel is often compared in size to the State of New Jersey. The two geographic areas are also similar in population with 8,864, 590 New Jersey residents reported in the latest census and somewhat over 8 million population reported in Israel. At its founding in 1948, the population of Israel was 806,000. That represents amazing growth for a nation that just celebrated its 65th birthday.

In the early years , Operation Magic Carpet brought Sephardic Jewish immigrants from surrounding Arab nations and Israel organized its absorption process so that these new Israelis could become literate and gain education that many had not been privileged with in their countries of origin. Years later when Jews from the former Soviet Union were allowed to leave, a million and a half Russian men, women and children migrated to Israel via Operation Exodus. In the case of the Russian immigrants, many came with professional backgrounds, highly skilled, but had to accept menial work until they could be placed more appropriately. In most recent years the Jews of Ethiopia were transported to Israel under Operation Solomon and Moses and now number approximately 150,000. These new Israelis spoke a language, Amharic, that few in Israel knew and with a life experience that can only be described as primitive. The absorption process has not been easy for any of the new Israelis, including Americans and others who have chosen Aliya, but the success rates have been impressive.

This resettlement of several million people from diverse background has taken place while Israel must , at all times, maintain a strong defense while undergoing life-threatening attacks from its enemies.

Currently about 75% of Israelis are Jewish, 20% are Arab and 4% are non-Arab Christians or other religions.
