When attending services, and other events at MRT, remember that people around you are sensitive to sound, fragrance, and distraction. Please always enjoy being here in ways that help others enjoy being here, too.
Make a difference in our community by volunteering at MRT’s Annual Mitzvah Day on Sunday October 14! Online sign ups for Mitzvah Day projects are already started, so please make sure to sign up! Some of the projects include: knitting for charity, crafts for eldercare, painting facilities, trail cleanup, MRT cleaning, local food collections, CPR class, kitchen help, and much, much more! We also need HELP WITH FOOD! This year we will try to do a complete potluck. You can cook, bake or donate. All items are welcomed, even if you cannot make it there October 14.

Contact Margie Wold to help with food or with any questions about Mitzvah Day. woldiem@aol.com, 732-241-9941

As part of Mitzvah Day 2018, we are collecting FULL SIZE bars of soap, in original packaging for S.A.C.K. (Supporting a Community with Kindness).

The bars of soap will be placed in crocheted/knitted sacks and will be distributed to food pantries and homeless shelters throughout Monmouth County. Please leave all donations in the bin located in the coatroom!

Thank you,
Mitzvah Day Committee
What a rush! Over the last month, the activity has been non-stop: creating an anti-hate initiative with the Red Bank City government, the incredible High Holy Days, the annual Hope Walk, the start of Religious School, our homelessness initiative, Sukkot, Simchat Torah, the Welcome Back Shabbat, in addition to all the other ongoing projects and ideas! What a blessing to have so many people doing so many diverse things.

This new year provides us with an opportunity to change the world. It needs our effort, our commitment, and our love. Pirke Avot tells us that we are not going to finish the work, but we cannot desist from working towards the goal.

Over the Holy Days, I handed out a source sheet with information on where people can help. We will also be presenting opportunities to dive in throughout the year. The more we do, the better we will understand the plight of people who are in need. We need this education in order to meaningfully help.

We also provide lots of opportunities for people to grow relationships with each other and with our tradition. Every Monday, an e-blast goes out containing the schedule of events and opportunities for the coming week. Our sages teach that in order to derive benefit from living, we have to do at least one thing every day that takes us from our complacency. By this, I infer that we have to try something new on a regular basis. Pick from the list and dive in!

Most importantly, MRT provides us with an opportunity to get in better touch with ourselves. Through, worship, study, social relationships, justice work, and celebration, find the niche that helps make you more whole this year. If you have interests not on the menu of offerings, let us know, I bet others would like to experiment with a new idea, as well.

Part of being “Blessed Every Day” involves remembering to participate in them. We look forward to a healthy, joyous, prosperous, and productive year to come.
In the Torah Moses led our people through instruction from God. Our people visually experienced many miracles, parting of the Red Sea, manna from heaven, watching Moses bring down the tablets of law—all continual reminders of God’s presence. In Exodus chapter 35 we read how God cares a great deal about the visuals in worship. There was intricate detail about the color, size, shape, and textures of every aspect of the ancient worship service—the Altar, Ark of the Covenant and every other aspect of the worship service. I have spent the last year and a half learning how to create Visual Worship. As beautiful as our prayers are, there is something very special and miraculous when we see beautiful images surrounding the words and prayers. This is what Visual Worship is meant to do for us at MRT.

Reb Nachman of Braztlav said, “all the world is a narrow bridge—but the most important part is not to be afraid”. On October 26th our Visual Worship service is based on the ideas of bridges. Bridges are very powerful. They connect us to one another and enable us to go to places that were unchartered before. I believe there is a bridge between our ancestors and ourselves as we seek to continue their traditions in a meaningful way. I pray there is a “bridge” between God and the world we live in. I am truly inspired by the concept of connection using the images of bridges as we seek a connection with our community and God. Our worship can be the connecting bridge.

On November 30th the Visual Worship service will be based on Rainbows. Our Torah says, “And God said to Noah and his sons: I will keep my covenant with you and your descendants…and never again will a flood destroy all life, and there will not be another flood destroying the earth….This is the sign I am making, (the rainbow) testifying to the covenant between Me and you and all living souls, forever: I have put my rainbow in the clouds, and it will be the sign of the covenant between Myself and the world. When I send clouds over the earth, the rainbow will be seen in the clouds, and I will remember the covenant between Myself and yourselves and all living souls, and there will never again be a flood to destroy all life. The rainbow will be in the clouds and I will see it and remember the eternal covenant between God and all the living souls on earth.” The rainbow is an incredibly powerful and unifying image. This service is a colorful and emotional look at the beauty of our world through rainbows.

Adding to all of this we will have a musical guest artist helping me to lead the music. Chris Mason, is a graduate of the Music Education program at William Paterson University of New Jersey where he majored in classical saxophone and minored in classical voice. He has significant work experience as a songleader with a two necked guitar in religious schools and in worship settings, as well as experience working with choirs specializing in Jewish Choral Music. He and I are both conductors of Ha Zamir chapters! Chris has spent summers as a songleader at URJ Crane Lake Camp. We are so excited to have him join us on those Shabbatot!
B’Kol Echad – In One Voice, resonates through our Religious School. Together – we participate in Jewish learning experiences, Together – we celebrate holidays, and Together – we support each other and our community. The theme for the year weaves through our curriculum and our learning and the feeling of accomplishing tasks together is felt throughout.

Nowhere is this more visible than in the school’s contributions towards Mitzvah Day and the collections throughout the school. In support of the temple’s homelessness initiative and Mitzvah Day on October 14th, all students are asked to come in with their families and take advantage of one of the many opportunities to volunteer. There are numerous places and ways to help, from packing toiletries or painting doors at the temple to volunteering off site in the community. In addition, the school is collecting toiletries to be packed on Mitzvah Day to benefit the Monmouth County Project Homeless Connect 2019. Each grade has a basket outside their door for the collections; they are …

Kindergarten/First Grade: Travel Size Tooth Paste
Second Grade: Toothbrushes – Please no multi-packs.
Third Grade: Travel Size Shampoo
Fourth Grade: Bar Soap
Fifth Grade: Travel Size Deodorant
Sixth Grade: Travel Size Lotion
Seventh Grade: Washcloths

Thank you for being one of the many voices to join us so that B’Kol Echad, Together – we can make a difference.

Best,
Magda

Not a garden volunteer or a temple member, Paul Freedman is integral to Gan Mazons success. From discussions with Paul, I know him to be a knowledgeable advocate for healthy eating. Fortunately for many families, he is in a position to influence their eating habits as the Executive Director of the Jewish Family & Children’s Service of Greater Monmouth County. JFCS operates a nonsectarian food pantry on Friday mornings. Families may visit the pantry one Friday per month and no-one is turned away.

Gan Mazons volunteers and I have control over how our produce is grown, harvested and treated for insects and disease. We have no say in how our pantry partners handle harvests after delivery. Having pantry partners with the same values toward needy families is paramount to me.

I first partnered with JFCS because no other donation garden provided its pantry with fresh produce. Paul had to purchase vegetables until Gan Mazons came along. Early this season, a conversation with Paul about the 130 lbs. of collards his pantry received from Gan Mazons reinforced my decision to partner with JFCS. He was especially enthusiastic over collards’s high nutritional value and happy that his pantry’s clients embraced the new vegetable.

Produce deliveries are usually made by Doreen Laperson-Addison and Barbara Miller. I rarely deliver; however, on Thursday, September 5, I brought 312 lbs. to the agency’s main office in Asbury Park. The staff was extremely happy to see the 42 plastic bags and boxes of vegetables in this delivery. All 312 lbs. were carefully placed on tables in preparation for filling the shopping bags shown in the photos. On Friday morning, each family will receive two shopping bags filled with items either donated or purchased by Paul providing balanced, nutritional meals. The staff assured me that by the pantry’s closing time no produce would be left.

Mitzvah Day, October 14, is an important day for Gan Mazons. We depend upon this event to accomplish special projects. Please consider joining us as we close the 2018 season and begin the process for preparing the garden for the 2019 season. During the day, volunteers may have need for a pointed shovel, a garden rake, a leaf rake, or pitch fork. Although, Gan Mazons has extra tools, it speeds work along when a volunteer does not have to wait his/her turn for a tool.

A belated L’Shanah Tovah, David
sis·ter·hood (noun):
1. the relationship between sisters.
2. an association, society, or community of women linked by a common interest, religion, or trade.

Having a common bond is what brings people together. Being on the earth for a finite period of time makes most of us feel that we need to make the best of it while we are here. As we come into the holiday season with Thanksgiving and Chanukah, it seems that people are either givers or takers. Our Sisterhood has always been a group of Givers. It is evident when we bond together for happy occasions, sad times, or time of need. It is said that Giving produces a far greater feeling of joy within than Taking. At this time of year, there are so many people who need the help and support that we can give to them. Be a part of Sisterhood and feel the joy. It is also comforting to know that we will be there when you need us.

Back in mid August we celebrated Sisterhood by going to the beach. Thank you to co-president, Nancy Zaslowe, for hosting lunch at her lovely home! We had a great turn out for a lunch on a Tuesday. Many of us went to the beach for the afternoon and it was beautiful. Fortunately, we packed up and left the beach before the rains came in. We all had a terrific time!

The following week, Sisterhood hosted the annual Book Club Pot luck dinner and book swap on the deck of the Shrewsbury Yacht club. Another wonderful time with everyone who came. It was a very nice night. We had great food, nonstop conversation, and some of us even went home with a few new books. Thank you so much to Cheryl and Nancy for putting it together for us!

We held our annual Sisterhood in the Sukkah at the end of September and we had an extremely successful turnout as we have had in the past. Sisterhood provided dinner and the members brought dessert to share. The Cantor led us in prayer and we bonded together under the sky above.

Mark your calendars for November 27 for a movie night Out and About. Also, you definitely do not want to miss the annual Chanukah party at the temple. That will be held on December 7. Everyone is invited and welcome to attend. Our Book Club movie night is December 13 at 7:15 PM. Linda Burstein has graciously offered to host at her home. More details to follow.

Remember, Mah Jongg continues on Tuesday from 1-3 at the temple. Please RSVP to 49sunnyside@gmail.com if you are interested or have any questions.

Also, our monthly book club continues on Monday nights. We are still looking for a book club host for Monday, Nov. 12th. It has been requested that the book club meet at the temple that night, but someone needs to volunteer to pick the book and be in charge of the evening.

If you can host, please contact Linda Burstein at lindaburstein@aol.com or Linda Murray at lwmurray1@gmail.com

REMEMBER: If you are new to the temple, you get a free membership to the Sisterhood for the current year! Come on out and join us. We would love to get to know you!

Best wishes,
Ellen Goldberg and Nancy Zaslow
Co-presidents MRT Sisterhood
The Old City, in Jerusalem, is divided into 4 quarters. Many of us, as tourists, have visited the Jewish quarter, the Christian and the Muslim quarters, rushing through the crowded, narrow passageways and stopping at a hole-in-the-wall shop to purchase a souvenir or two. But how many of us have wandered into the Armenian quarter? Armenian quarter? What are they doing there and what is the history?

Briefly the Armenian religious presence dates back to the 4th century C.E. when the Armenian Caliphate considered Christianity as their religion, though separate from Greek Orthodox and from Catholic Christians. The reason for their separation is the distinct language and culture of the Armenian nation. They are neither Arab nor Palestinian but currently identify as Palestinians.

The small Armenian presence in Palestine, first established and mostly occupied by religious monks and those serving the religious, survived during many invasions through the centuries and during the Ottoman period.

Before World War I there were 2-3000 Armenians living in Palestine. After that, when Palestine was captured by the British, as a result of the war, there were about 15,000 Armenians living in the country, mostly in Jerusalem, having fled there as a result of the Armenian Genocide in 1915-1918. According to Rouben Adallan, Director of The Armenian National Institute, Washington, D.C., “Between 1915-1918 the Ottoman Empire, led by Muslim Turks, carried out a policy to eliminate the Christian Armenian minority.” 1.5 million Armenians were slaughtered. This genocide was mostly ignored by the rest of the world.

In 1933, a book by Franz Werfel, a German Jew who was influenced during his childhood by Catholic teachers and other faiths, was published. “The Forty Days of Musa Dagh” is a story of heroism and hope that is beautifully told about a group of people from several Armenian villages who chose to defy orders of deportation and vowed to live for a time on a mountain top, (Musa Dagh) waiting, hoping for the allies to save them. Their plight was ignored by nations of the world.

Recently, several governments, the United Nations, the Catholic Church and the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum have publicly recognized the genocide which Turkey continues to deny. The United States has not recognized the Armenian genocide nor has Israel when the Knesset, this past June, failed to adopt a resolution recognizing the historical truth of the slaughter of 1.5 million Armenians in Turkey by the leaders of the Ottoman Empire during World War 1. Nations conduct their business as they will, for complicated political reasons. But history cannot be denied.

Other past horrific events throughout world history have been denied or ignored, as were the early years of the Holocaust. Some have said that the Armenian genocide, ignored by the rest of the world, was a template for the Shoa. No one would know. No one would care.
What Will Your Legacy Be?

“A dynamic Jewish community depends on the next generation for continuity and support. We love kids and the sounds of play. Combining these two themes, the Rivkin family is excited to fund, in perpetuity, Jewish summer camps for MRT families. The richness of camp experiences and bonds during youth is priceless.” Judy Rivkin

Our LIFE&LEGACY program, launched in 2016 under the auspices of the Jewish Federation in the Heart of New Jersey and the Grinspoon Foundation, continued with significant success in 2017/18. We added 23 new donors to our original list of 18. All are now Charter members of the Legacy Giving Circle.

“MRT has provided a foundation of Judaism, special memories and supportive relationships for three generations of my family. It is my wish that my legacy will contribute in helping MRT to survive and continue to do the same and more for future generations to come. It is comforting to hope that my gift will help secure the future of continued Jewish Community and involvement. Brenda Tuller

Just as we today enjoy and appreciate the opportunity to attend joyous Shabbat and holiday services, educate our children and grandchildren, engross ourselves in lifelong Jewish learning, build lasting friendships, grow a love and appreciation for Israel and fulfill our mission of Tikun Olam, we can be the foundation upon which future generations will find a welcoming and flourishing kehilla k’dosha, a holy community, at Monmouth Reform Temple.

We have now established 4 permanent endowments that will help sustain MRT into the future.

Rabbi Sally J Priesand (RSJP) Endowment for the Future
Religious School Endowment Fund
Scholar-In-Residence Endowment Fund
Rivkin Summer Camp Endowment Fund

Legacy contributions can be designated for any one of these funds or you may discuss another use that would serve your passion for supporting our community into the future. Legacy contributions not designated for a particular fund will be placed in the RSJP Endowment. Please reach out to any one of our LIFE&LEGACY committee members to discuss how you can participate in this mitzvah.

Lexi Ziobro will be celebrating her Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, October 6, 2018. She’s currently in 7th grade and attends Thompson Middle School in Middletown, NJ. She has received high academic honors, and wants to one day became a lawyer or engineer. Lexi is member of the Thompson school band and has been playing the clarinet for several years. In her spare time, Lexi is an avid reader. She’s a member of the Dance With Melody competition dance team in Middletown. She also enjoys traveling with her family. Ask Lexi about her recent travels to the Grand Tetons and Yellowstone National parks where she went hiking, white-water rafting, horse-back riding and went on a real cowboy cookout!

Lexi’s Bat Mitzvah project entailed holding a fundraiser for Give Kids the World, a non-profit resort located in central Florida which provides children with critical illnesses and their families cost-free vacations to Florida. Please visit Lexi’s video at http://support.gktw.org/goto/LexiZ to learn more and how you can donate to this wonderful cause.

Agatha Hershey will celebrate her Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, October 13, 2018. Mazel Tov to Agatha and her family!

Kate Feigus will celebrate her Bat Mitzvah on October 20th, 2018 at 10 am. Kate is a seventh grader at Brielle Elementary School in Brielle, NJ. She is an A student and competes on her school’s academic team, runs on the cross-country team and plays basketball. She is an avid softball player, playing for her school, her town and her travel team. She received her black belt last year and spent the summer surfing and enjoying her shore life. When she is not surfing or competing in sports, you can find her at her piano, she even played at Carnegie Hall last spring. She is a lover of animals and for her Mitzvah project she is making organic dog treats for local animal shelters and spreading awareness of their needs. She would like to thank Rabbi Kline and Cantor Clissold for helping her prepare for this special achievement in her life.
Jacob Gutsin will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, November 3, 2018. Jacob attends Thompson Middle School in Lincroft, New Jersey and has 2 older sisters Jen (age 27) and Michelle (age 24). Jacob is an honor student. He is very interested in engineering and is very proud of his computer that he built. He enjoys playing computer games and spending time with friends and family. For Jacob’s Mitzvah project he has been volunteering with the Family Promise organization. This organization provides food, shelter and support services for homeless families. This project has taught Jacob how to appreciate what he has and not to take anything for granted.

Sydney Osofsky will celebrate her Bat Mitzvah on October 27, 2018. She has two sisters, Jordyn and Camryn, who are 16 and 14. She enjoys singing and relaxing at the beach. She has two dogs, Captain and Saylor who love to run around and play tug-of-war. Her cat Indi likes to find sunny spots on the counter to lie in and sleep.

Sydney’s parents, Jeff and Melissa, are very proud of her and are looking forward to her bright future. Sydney attends Forrestdale Middle School in Rumson, New Jersey. Sydney and her sisters have created a not for profit organization called United By Fire to support children who have been affected by house fires which donates gently used clothes, toys, unused toiletries and school supplies.

Should you have any of these items you wish to donate please contact either unitedbyfireinc@gmail.com or call (732)-539-7214.
